New factory installations are being built on the site of the Junkers Works, Dessau. The original factory was dismantled and rebuilt in Russia. About 500 workers are busy building three large work sheds. Late in 1952, the Soviets evacuated the plant's airfield which they had used. The field is equipped with underground fuel tanks and radar installations. The Pussian air force personnel have been transferred to Zerbst.

- 2. About 40 Soviet engineers and their families have come to Dessau.

  Their mission is to take charge of the rebuilding of the Junkers Works in Dessau.
- 3. In addition to the Soviet engineers about 300 German engineers and technicians from Russia are said to have come to Dessau. About 250 dwellings there have been evacuated for their use.
